RED FLAG IS HAULED DOWN OVER MISSION

Angry Russians Roar Back To Soviet Zone Ending Siege Lasting For Two Days

SOVIETS STRIKE BACK

Frankfurt, Germany, March 4.—(P)—Eight angry Russian soldiers ran down the Red flag over the Russian Repatriation Mission headquarters today and roared off to the Soviet zone of Germany in a motor convoy.

The Russians were grim-faced as they left the building in which they had been blockaded for two days by American Military Police. One Russian truck driver spat at an American girl bystander as he left the mission grounds.

The siege of the big yellow house finally forced Russian headquarters in Berlin to order the mission to comply with American orders to leave the U. S. occupation zone.

But Russian authorities struck back quickly. They ordered U. S. Graves Registration men to leave the Soviet zone at once. A grave search unit of four U. S. soldiers arrived in Berlin from the Soviet zone last night under escort of a Russian officer. Two other Americans were in Berlin voluntarily on a holiday when the Russian order was issued.

The Russian Repatriation Mission left Frankfurt in three automobiles and two trucks piled high with their belongings. They were escorted by members of the Soviet Military Mission here.

The eight men had been sealed in their quarters for two days by a "little blockade" imposed by the U. S. Army after they failed to heed an order from Gen. Lucius D. Clay to leave the American zone by March 1. Clay said they had no reason to remain as the return of displaced persons to Russia had dwindled to almost nothing.

The Russians protested that the order to leave was a violation of the Yalta and Teheran agreements but their protest was rejected by the U. S. Department.

The trucks which were in the Russian convoy were crammed with worn-out spare tires, battered gasoline drums and trunks.

After they left, reporters found the mission building in a state of utter disorder. Overloaded ash trays had spilled onto tables and floors. Several chess boards had been overturned, scattering the figures about the floor.

Incongruous in the old war between east and west was the conference room where the standards of the four wartime allies—Britain, France, the U. S. and Russia—hung side by side.

The mission members had spent hours burning documents and packing their belongings before they left the building. They appeared well-shaven, although the mission's water supply had run out.

Labor Bill Is Given Okay By Committee

Washington, March 4.—(P)—The senate labor committee today approved the Truman labor bill without change by a vote of 8 to 5.

The bill would repeal the Taft-Hartley law and substitute the old Wagner labor relations act with modifications.

The votes for the bill were cast by Democrats. All Republicans on the committee voted against it.

The vote at this time was taken over bitter Republican protests that further study should be given the measure.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), the ranking minority member, declared the forced vote was the "most high-handed" procedure he has seen since he has been in the senate.

Taft said the Democrats refused to consider at all any of the amendments to the bill proposed by Republicans.

Sailor A. W. O. L. 19 Months Claims He Was Shanghaied

Canton, March 4.—(P)—James Patrick Ryan, 24, U. S. Navy sailor missing for 19 months from his ship in the Mediterranean, today charged he was shanghaied into the French Foreign Legion.

Ryan, who gave his address as 419 Moore street, Huntington, Pa., said he was shanghaied in a half-way around the world to fight the Vietnamese in Indo-China before he managed to escape. He said it took him five months on foot and by river boat to reach Canton. He was being treated at a hospital for malnutrition and jungle ulcers on arrival from the American Consul.

The American charged in an interview that he was one of several American being held against their will in the French Foreign Legion.

Ryan said he was a seaman aboard the U. S. S. Dickinson. He missed the ship at San Remo, Italy, on July 2, 1947, he said. The sailor said he hoped to catch it at Nice, France, and rushed there.

He was picked up by French Foreign Legion military police and questioned.

"I spoke no French and they no English," he said. "So we talked in German which I picked up during the war."

"That was my mistake," Ryan continued. "They refused to believe I was an American and threw me in a military jail."

Welsh Seaport Back On Greenwich Time

Kidwelly, Wales, March 4.—(P)—For 47 years this little Welsh seaport town has boasted that it is ahead of the rest of Britain—five minutes ahead, that is.

But today the local council turned back the clock.

From now on Kidwelly will be on Greenwich mean time just as everywhere else in the British Isles. Nobody knows for sure just why the town clock was set five minutes fast when St. Mary's Church was rebuilt in 1902. But it stayed that way until the council abolished "Kidwelly Local time" today.

Housing Plan Introduced In Legislature

Harrisburg, March 4.—(P)—The administration's housing program to provide homes for families with an annual income of $3,500 or less is on its way through the legislature.

E. A. Pitkin, executive director of the State Planning Board, said that the plan introduced yesterday calls for limiting the rentals to a top of $50 or $60.

The planning board, under the legislation, would absorb the existing state housing board and administer the far-reaching program as the first of its kind in the nation.

Gov. Duff in calling for the legislation said that the present cost of construction is so high that rental units can be built only with government aid.

His plan was wrapped up in a package of eight bills sponsored by Reps. Frank A. Costa (R-Phila.) and George W. Cooper (R-Allentown).

The legislation would allow the (Turn to Page Eight)

Number Jobless Is Reported Increasing

Washington, March 4.—(P)—The number of jobless Americans shot up another 550,000 in February to 3,200,000, the highest unemployment since the war.

The Census Bureau, reporting the figure today, attributed the rise partly to bad weather in some parts of the country and partly to "non-seasonal layoffs" in industry.

The new increase in unemployment, on top of a 700,000 rise in January, makes the total increase in joblessness 1,250,000 for the first two months of 1949.

Not since March, 1942, had so many Americans who wanted jobs failed to find them. In that early part of the war, unemployment totaled 3,580,000.

The 3,200,000 total of unemployed last month was fairly close to the figure of 3,260,000 that prevailed in December, 1947, when the Japanese strike at Pearl Harbor plunged the U. S. into World War II.

The new February total was 600,000 higher than that in February, 1948.

County's All-Important Red Cross Drive Opens Monday

Warren county's all-important Red Cross Drive will open on Monday and continue until the quota of $15,825.00 has been reached or passed.

Sunday, March 6th, has been designated as Red Cross Sunday and all churches in the county and borough have been asked to dedicate a portion of their service to the National Red Cross while pastors have been asked to emphasize the importance of the campaign in Warren county; urging upon their parishioners the importance of each and every contribution made to the local Chapter.

The Warren County campaign will be simplified and streamlined this year as in other non-war years. There will be no campaign meetings or dinners, no army of canvassers has been enrolled to solicit funds and no business firms, factories or plants will be invaded on behalf of the Red Cross.

An intensive campaign will be waged nevertheless; all by means of mail. Letters have been prepared along with an enclosure and a pledge card and will be mailed to every person in the county who made a gift to the Red Cross last year. Individuals, corporations and other places of business will be approached in the same manner.

The appeal of the Warren County Chapter, as well as the national organization has been set forth in this mailing and through this appeal, and only this one appeal, the Warren County Chapter confidently expects the quota of $15,825.00 will be quickly reached.

A return envelope, for which no postage will be needed, is enclosed in each letter. The pledge card may be filled out and mailed to Red Cross Headquarters care of Paul E. Harrington, Treasurer, Warren County Chapter. Over 11,000 such letters will be mailed to every point of the county.

Contributors are asked to give as generously as they can to this "once a year" campaign for the Red Cross. Rather than hastily writing a check for $5 or $10 and mailing it, they are asked to consider carefully whether or not they can give this amount now and pay similar amounts during the course of the year in three additional payments.

EXECUTION OF FOUR IN SPY TRIAL SOUGHT

Communist Prosecutor Demands Death Penalty for Leaders of 15 Protestant Churchmen

SUMMATION IS BEGUN

Sofia, Bulgaria, March 4.—(P)—The Communist prosecutor today demanded the death penalty for the top four of 15 Protestant churchmen who are charged with spying and treason against Bulgaria.

In a two-hour summation, Moscow-trained Dimitar Georgiev accused the defendants not only of spying but trying to promote a revolt against Bulgaria's Communist-dominated government which he said was to have brought intervention by the United States and Britain.

The prosecutor said names of prominent Americans and Englishmen were mixed "in the spy network of Evangelical leaders" as well as the names of various American church boards and the World Council of Churches.

"That is why this trial is significant not only here but abroad," he declared.

The four for whom the prosecutor demanded the death penalty are Vassil Georgiev Ziapkov, a Congregationalist; Yanko Nikolov Ivanov, a Methodist; Nikols Mikhailov Naumov, a Baptist; and Georgi Nikolov Chernev of the Pentecost church.

He asserted the real masters of the four were British and American "Imperialists" and American Church Mission boards.

The Moscow-trained prosecutor asserted all the defendants had made long public confessions in court and that these had been substantiated by the testimony offered by witnesses.

In denouncing the top four he said "with weeping and repenting, they tried to fool the court."

This was a reference to the sobbing and crying of Ziapkov and Naumov when they recited their long public confessions.

He also charged the main defendants "before the war served for German Hitlerite Fascist intelligence and after the war for American Imperialism."

The prosecutor also claimed there had been "no restraints on the defendants," all of whom confessed publicly. He said the trial was "carried out with complete publicity in the presence of foreigners."

He accused all four of Bulgaria's Protestant churches of spreading anti-Russian rumors. These, he said, included stories about starvation in Russia and 15,000,000 people in slave labor there.

Doubt was expressed in some official circles that the maximum penalties would be imposed. In fact, the assistant prosecutor, Todor Tsakov, who also addressed the court, found mitigating circumstances for some of the lesser defendants. He said the Pentecostal pastor, 41-year-old Haralan Popov, "sincerely repented," and Lorch Danayov, also Pentecostal, had a "sweet character," but had been misguided.

Bi-Partisan Committee Scans Inheritance Tax Boost As A Soft Drink Levy Substitute

Harrisburg, March 4.—(P)—Governor James H. Duff said today he expects his $445,000,000 tax program to be approved by the general assembly.

The governor told reporters at a news conference that "I have not changed my opinion one iota" regarding the house-approved tax bills now pending in the senate.

"I expect the tax program to go through," Duff said.

The executive refused, however, to comment on the search by a bi-partisan senate committee for a possible substitute for the hotly disputed soft drink tax.

The senate committee is studying a suggestion to increase state inheritance taxes as a substitute for the soda levy.

Chairman James A. Getz (R-Allentown) of the senate finance committee said this was one of the suggestions offered his group to bring in an estimated $22,000,000 in revenue should the house-passed pop tax fail of re-enactment.

The 15-member finance committee held up Gov. James H. Duff's $445,000,000 tax program on Wednesday pending a survey by a subcommittee program and budget needs. Getz subsequently disclosed the principal reason for naming the committee was to find a substitute if possible, for the soft drink levy.

But Sen. John M. Walker, Senate Republican leader, and Sen. Fred P. Hare, Jr., Republican whip, insisted the entire tax program will be approved by the committee next week for floor action.

Getz said the suggestion for an increase in the rates of the inheritance taxes came from two committee members. They pressed for higher rates on both the taxes of direct heirs and collateral heirs. At present, the rates are two per cent and 10 per cent respectively.

Governor Duff's budget estimated that the present inheritance rates will produce $45,000,000 in the next two years, an increase of $1,000,000 over the present biennium.

Rates would have to be boosted at least 50 per cent to bring in the $22,000,000 that Getz said the budget office has estimated the house-approved soft drink levy will produce.

The legislature, meanwhile, rejected two other key administration proposals.

Bills were introduced in the House to establish Governor Duff's $15,000,000 housing subsidy plan to help private builders construct $30,000,000 worth of low-rental homes. Subsidies up to 35 per cent of the cost of projects will be given on a bidding basis.

The compensation measures would boost from $20 to $25 a week payments under the unemployment compensation and from $20 to $25 a week for occupational disease benefits. Weekly minimums for workmen's and occupational disease compensation also would be increased.

The Senate, on the other hand, received measures to exempt farm gasoline from state taxes and to increase by more than $6,000,000 grants to local municipalities from the motor fund.

The 240 grave diggers and other employees at the 600-acre cemetery, members of the CIO United Cemetery Workers, are striking for a five-day week at the same pay—$59.40 a week—which they had been getting for six days.

The volunteers worked from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. in a raw wind, with an hour off for lunch. They had lunch boxes of bologna sandwiches, cake and milk.

In addition to caring for the big backlog of bodies, the amateur diggers were getting along well at Magee Hospital.

POLICEMAN AIDS STORK

Pittsburgh, March 4.—(P)—This stork business is getting to be routine for Patrolman William Heagy. He has just delivered his seventh baby. Called to the home of 18-year-old Mrs. Lucinda Allen to make "a hospital run," Heagy found himself pressed into service as a midwife. Today, Mrs. Allen and her 6½ pound daughter were getting along well at Magee Hospital.

MORE POWER FOR DEFENSE CHIEF HINTED

Louis A. Johnson, Succeeding Forrestal, May Be Handed Greater Authority Than Predecessor

HAS BEEN ASSISTANT

Washington, March 4.—(P)—Louis A. Johnson, soon to be secretary of defense, said today that America must remain strong.

"Strength means peace, and without strength there is no peace," he said.

Johnson talked with reporters at the White House. He said the purpose of his call on President Truman was to express appreciation for his appointment and "my full devoted loyalty."

Accompanying Johnson was Secretary Forrestal. Johnson said he had been meeting regularly with Forrestal and would continue to do so until March 31, when he takes over, getting familiar with the job.

Forrestal said the two would spend the next month arranging for a "smooth, practical, and easy transition." He said the cabinet office is a great responsibility and he is confident Johnson will handle it with success.

Forrestal, a former New York financier, was asked his plans for the future. He said he had made none except to get a long rest.

There are indications that Johnson may be handed more authority than Forrestal has had.

President Truman, who announced yesterday that Johnson will replace Secretary of Defense Forrestal at the end of this month, is expected to ask Congress to give more power to the new defense chief.

Johnson, 58-year-old West Virginian, has served in the past as assistant secretary of war. His career includes a term as national commander of the American Legion years of practicing law, and experience as a money raiser in Mr. Truman's election campaign last year.

A more powerful secretary of defense was the main theme of the Hoover Commission's recent report on reorganization of the Department of Defense. Forrestal had made similar proposals in the past.

Mr. Truman told his news conference yesterday that he thought all the recommendations offered by the commission—which is headed by Mr. Clegg—were sound.

First All-American Route To Start In State Next Monday

Washington, March 4.—(P)—The first route in All American Airways' recently authorized short-hop regional service over 2,000 miles in seven states and the District of Columbia will start operation Monday morning.

This route, to be served by the company's specially designed 24-passenger planes, will be the Washington-Baltimore-Pittsburgh run via Frederick, Hagerstown, Md., Martinsburg, W. Va., Cumberland, Md., and Connellsville-Uniontown, Pa.

There will be two flights each way daily. A third flight each way will operate every day except Sundays and holidays. The latter will not serve Baltimore.

The company said six other routes will come into operation later in the spring.

All American previously operated an air mail pick-up service, whereby mail was delivered and picked up without planes coming to a stop. At that time the company was known as All American Aviation.

When it switched operations to bring scheduled passenger service to communities on a regional basis it changed its name to All American Airways.

To be announced later is the route between Pittsburgh and Buffalo by way of Butler, Oil City, Franklin, Bradford, Pa., Johnstown and Dunkirk-Fredonia, N. Y.

The company also plans some summer-service routes.

The company said that a number of communities is hoped to serve directly now have inadequate airport facilities. These were listed as Warren, Indiana, DuBois, Pa., Pottsville, Pa., Erie, Pa., and Salsburg, Md., and Chillicothe, Ohio.

But residents of some of these towns will be able to benefit from All America's service by going to other comparatively near airports.

Washington, March 4.—(P)—All American Airways said it will file a petition today to include Lock Haven, Pa., on its proposed Pittsburgh-New York route.

David L. Miller, director of sales for All American, said the petition to the Civil Aeronautics Board will be accompanied by a letter.

The letter, he said, will state that Lock Haven has an adequate airport, is the home of the Piper Aircraft Company and Lock Haven State Teachers College, and therefore is entitled to service.

Earliest Tapping In Clinton Since 1907

Lock Haven, March 4.—(P)—Move over, Mr. Groundhog—here comes the maple tree as a harbinger of spring.

A month ago, the groundhog saw his shadow and thereby indicated six more weeks of winter.

Yesterday, Farmer Stuart Gruppe of nearby Rainchout reported that since Feb. 18 he has tapped 240 maple trees and obtained six more gallons of syrup.

That, says Farmer Gruppe, is the earliest tapping in Pennsylvania's Clinton county since 1907.

Norway Lines Up With West Over Protests

Washington, March 4.—(P)—Startegic Norway officially linked its defense with the North Atlantic democracies today, against Russia's vehement objections.

Norwegian Ambassador Wilhelm Munthe De Mogenstjerne was due at the State Department this morning to add his country for the first time to the list of nations drawing up a light defense alliance against Communist expansion.

The Norwegian government's formal acceptance of an invitation to join in the final stages of the negotiations came yesterday. Simultaneously Norway was reported to have turned down a non-aggression pact which would have tied its future to Russia.

The nations already at work on the North Atlantic treaty are the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

State Department officials welcomed Norway's decision to join up as a significant cold-war victory over Russia, one which is bound to increase the effectiveness of the north Atlantic grouping.

Denmark, following Norway's lead, said last night, said last night that it, too, would like to join the treaty talk. That leaves Sweden the only "neutral" among the Scandinavian countries which control the approaches to the Baltic sea.

The Norwegian storting (Parliament) overwhelmingly approved Norway's decision to turn to the west for security in a secret session yesterday. Mogenstjerne said the only opposition came from the 11 Communist members.

TEST COMING OVER RULING BY BARKLEY

Vice Pres. Expected to Decide Debate on Motion Can Be Halted By a Two-Thirds Vote

SHOWDOWN ON APPEAL

Washington, March 4.—(P)—Administration forces face stiff opposition if they try to choke off the five-day-old southern filibuster in the senate through a technicality, an Associated Press survey showed today.

The test will come, probably next week, on an expected ruling by Vice President Barkley

It Adds a Hundred Miles to the Day!

White sidewall tires available at additional cost

Owners of the 1949 Cadillac are going to get a pleasant surprise when they take it out for their first cross-country run. Without any extra effort whatsoever, they are going to wind up that first day's touring about a hundred miles farther from home than they expected to be! For here, beyond any doubt, is the greatest "mile-eater" that ever rolled over a highway. We are not talking about excessive speed—because, regardless of the power they have at their command, sensible people observe the laws of the road and the rules of safety. But the 1949 Cadillac is so cat-quick and eager—so smooth and easy and effortless, regardless of terrain—that it covers an amazing amount of distance inside the safe and legal limits. The secret, of course, is found in the great new Cadillac V-type engine—plus the marvelous new engineering in the Cadillac chassis. Actually, you almost seem to move by automatic propulsion. There is no performance like it—anywhere in the world.

Several Corry persons have lost their shirts and don't know it yet. The Commonwealth Laundry of Warren explains the matter this way: Dyer Richard Higby was returning to Warren Monday evening with a load of laundry which had been picked up in Corry. At a point near the Deerhead Inn the truck started to skid on the ice and plunged off the highway, rolling over on its side. Higby left the vehicle long enough to reach a telephone and summon a wrecker to place the vehicle back on the highway. While the truck was left unguarded someone pilfered it of a large quantity of laundry, the exact amount and ownership of which is not known. Officials of the laundry said the full amount of loss may exceed $100.

North Warren Club Dinner Is Enjoyed

Highlight of the winter season for Cub Pack 13 at North Warren, sponsored by the North Warren Civic Club, was the Blue and Gold dinner held in the community house and attended by about 75 boys, parents and friends.

Cub cutouts, candles and streamers decorated the tables, which were placed in the form of an X and centered with a beautifully decorated cake.

Elvis Sanden, Cubmaster, served as toastmaster for the dinner program, which included the invocation by Rev. Robert C. Knapp, pastor of North Warren Presbyterian church; a talk by Vance Weld, Cub representative from the Warren County Boy Scout Council, whose theme was the two-year crusade to strengthen the arm of liberty; presentation of awards; and two movies, "Western Crossing" and "Realm of the Wild", shown through the courtesy of the Bell Telephone Company.

Boys receiving awards in the special ceremony were: Den 1—Bob Saunders, Robert Winslow and Timothy Dremann, Wolf badges. Den 2—Keith McDonald, Lion badge, and Allan Kunselman, Bear badge. Den 4—Jimmy Ward, Bear badge and Ronald Sanden, Wolf Gold Arrow.

Parish Open House At Grace Methodist

Among the many interesting activities planned by Grace Methodist church for the near future is an open house, which is scheduled for Wednesday evening, March 30, 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

Members and friends of the church will be shown through the entire church building by competent guides, ending up in the dining room, where light refreshments will be served.

Plans for this affair are being formulated by a committee composed of Rev. Harold Knappenberger, chairman; Mrs. Mary Knudsen, Miss Lois Hulings, Howard A. Smith, Elmer D. Worley, Haddal C. Wright and Miss Lottie Carnahan.

Further announcement of the detailed plans will be made in the near future by both Times-Mirror and WNAE.

Letters to the Editor

Editor Times-Mirror:

The Warren County Ministerial Association at a recent meeting approved unanimously the following resolution presented to it by its Social Action Committee, of which the Rev. Wayne Furman of the First Methodist church in Warren is chairman: "The Warren County Ministerial Association, deeply appreciative of the Christian traditions of our communities, believes that the permanency of these traditions is threatened and that due regard to the following suggestions will help to maintain them: First: Keep Sunday for public worship. School functions, sporting events, and other occasions which call people together in great numbers for secular purposes should be discouraged. We would even urge that whenever possible public funerals be held on other days than Sunday. Second: Since most churches set aside Wednesday evening for a mid-week service, we would urge that in so far as possible community events of a non-religious nature be scheduled on other evenings."

The association thus appeals to the citizens of Warren county to help maintain our Christian traditions which it believes are indispensable to the welfare of our community life.

PATIENT RECOVERING
Corry Journal: Mrs. Orville Titus of Beaverdam, who suffered a fractured left shoulder in a fall out of bed at the Corry Hospital last week, is in fair condition, at Hamot Hospital at Erie. The injured woman was operated on by Dr. C. W. Fortune earlier this week and she is expected to be in the Erie institution another week or two. Relatives stated Dr. Fortune informed them after the operation that the injury was undoubtedly sustained in the fall, thus clearing up the previous controversy of whether the injury was sustained before or after she entered the Corry Hospital.

SQUAWKS AT FOOD PRICES

Let us all hang our heads in retroactive shame. For the Department of Agriculture, in its latest marketing report, has taken the public to task for keening and wailing about the price of food. It isn't justified, says the D. of A. Even as we blush it occurs to us that the department's scolding is a bit late. It comes at a time when most of us are venturing the hope, as we tote up the week's grocery bill, that maybe things are getting a little better. But the timing may be deliberate. If the department had held off on the eating public a few weeks earlier, it probably would have been the target for the howls previously served for the purveyors of victuals.

To prove to us how wrong we've been, the D. of A. notes some figures. It says the average family is paying only 21 per cent of its income for the same quantity representative food that cost it 23 per cent before the war. That's fine. But when were those comparative figures taken, at the height of high prices or now, when cost of us are complaining less? And wouldn't a median instead of an average figure perhaps have been better in this case?

A lot of people have seen their prewar income improved substantially in the last seven years. But a lot haven't. The minus 2 per cent change in food prices isn't going to give much comfort to those with more-or-less fixed incomes, no matter what the department says.

The department says nothing about what its "representative food" represents, nor does it say anything about quality. Many workers developed the insidious habit of buying more tasty and nutritious food with their wartime pocketbooks. When price controls went off and the market food took on black market prices, they've found it hard to break that habit and go back to hog wall and hominy.

The Agriculture Department concedes that there could be improvements in food processing and marketing, but it doesn't think that abusing the middleman or demanding smaller profits will help. Cutting profits won't result in lower prices, it insists. Retailing costs are the big item, says, representing about 25 cents of the average dollar spent for food.

That may be true, but it isn't a postwar phenomenon. New York City grocers used to say, before the war, that it cost more to transport food from trainloads in New Jersey to their shelves than it did to ship the same food from California to the Hudson River wharves. So there must be other reasons why steak, butter and other eatables went above the dollar mark in the not-so-distant past.

The D. of A. doesn't have any specific recommendations for bringing down the high prices which it says aren't high at all. Neither has any other department of government. We'd guess that the first significant cause of price peaks, at least in some commodities, was customer resistance. That was part of the public gripe against high prices.

And since you didn't even do anything that constructive, gentlemen of the Agriculture Department, kindly try off the chiding. If we common folks want to scream like tattooed Indians when the butcher presents his bill, it's one of our democratic rights.

LENTEN SERMONETTE

The Rev. Robert C. Knapp,
North Warren Presbyterian Church

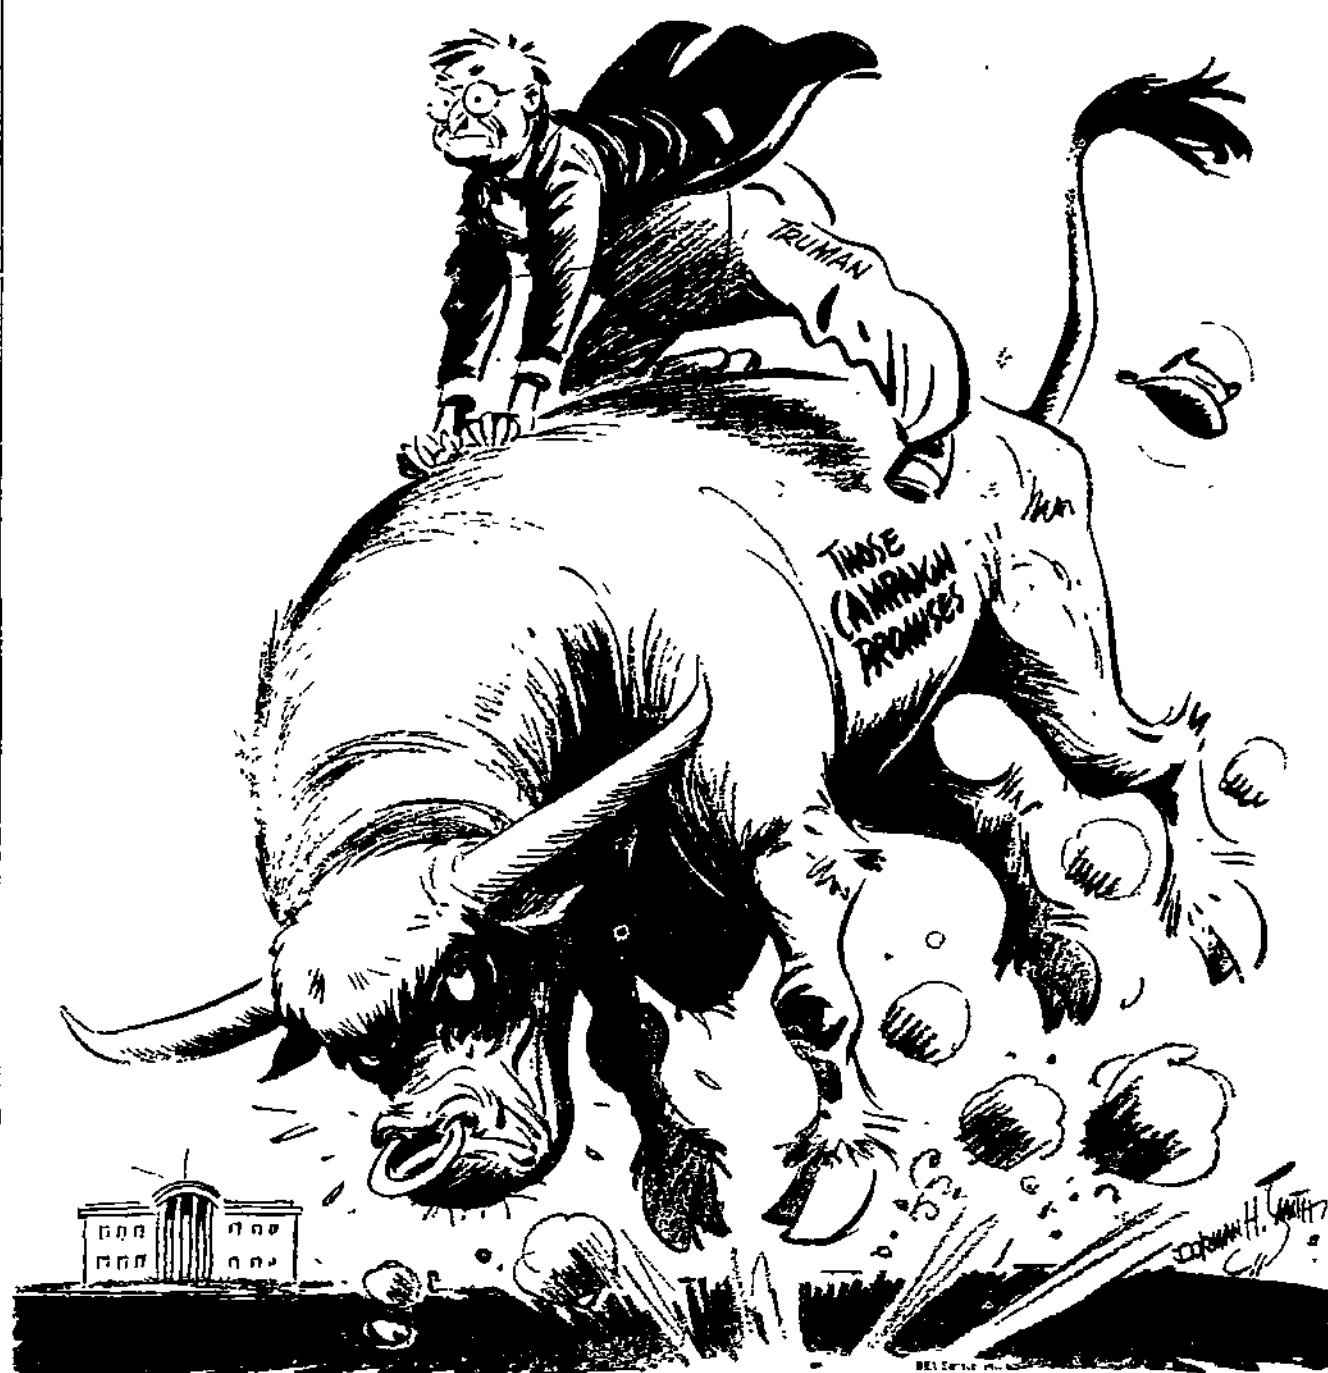

Text: Phil. 3:10—That I may know Him, . . . and the fellowship of His sufferings.

Christ, the righteousness that is by faith in Christ, and share in the redemption that is through Christ, are the things above all others which enlist the thoughts and endeavors of the writer of this text. All earthly possessions and honors he counted but loss, for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus. Yet, counting that he had already attained, he continually exerted himself and pressed for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. And thus, striving, hoping, and endeavoring, was his desire to know more of Christ and the fellowship of His sufferings.

What did Paul mean by this? First of all Paul would lay emphasis on the Passion of Christ, a chief element of Christianity. Without a suffering and dying Saviour, to atone for sin, there is no place for men in the heavenly kingdom. The Captain of our salvation could be perfected only through suffering. Without suffering there could be no salvation. Hence the Church has ever made much of the Passion of Christ.

Paul, however, meant more than mere sentiment of pity and sorrow following the tragic story. One may be theologically orthodox and softened to tears and yet have no spiritual appreciation of why Christ suffered. We need to realize in our own souls that He delivered for our offenses, wounded for our iniquities, and bruised for our iniquities. To know the fellowship of Christ's sufferings, is to have faith in the reality of them, and that they were to expiate our guilt and condemnation. It means a vivid consciousness that we are in them as a use since Christ suffered as our substitute, and that we are a guilty one for whom He suffered.

Here And There

This and That: A course in safe driving, similar to one taught now in the Warren schools, will be added to the curriculum of DuBois Senior High school for next term, if the school authorities carry out plans laid down at a special meeting called for the consideration of the budget for next year.

Birthday congratulations to Al Albaugh of the Barnhart-Davis Co., and O. R. Pang, over at the Crescent Furniture Co. . . . John Wise, business manager of the Bradford Baseball Club of the Pony league for the past three years, has been promoted to front office executive of the Terre Haute, Ind., team of the Class B Three-Base League. Both Bradford and Terre Haute are Philadelphia Phillies farm system teams. A native of Bradford, many Warren sports followers will remember Wise as an outstanding football and track star at the Bradford High School a decade ago. He entered organized baseball in 1946 as business manager of the Blue Wings. . . . Fifteen players and managers of the Franklin High School basketball team, four high school coaches and Prof. Harry F. Newell, principal of the high school, were guests of the Franklin Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting in the Franklin club Wednesday night. The theme of the 1949 promotion of the Chautauqua Lake region by the Jamestown Chamber of Commerce, "This Year Vacation on Chautauqua Lake," will be carried out in a new booklet being prepared by the chamber. The booklet, many in Warren will be interested to learn, will bring all information about the lake region up to date. In 1948, 8,000 similar booklets were distributed throughout the United States and Canada and plans call for the use of at least a like amount this year. . . . The Rev. Robert C. Knapp, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, gave a Lenten sermonette, which we appreciate and are pleased to acknowledge. It says: "I would like to thank you not only for the opportunity given in the Lenten season but for all the excellent coverage of church news and notices which you and your staff give all during the year." . . . Tomorrow will be "Red Cross Sunday" in churches of the borough and county, setting in motion the intensive campaign to raise the County Chapter's quota of $12,825, during the coming week. The solicitation will be entirely by mail and contributors are urged to send in their cash or check immediately. . . . Fifty years ago today, March 4, 1899, according to the Evening Mirror of that date, "The Chemistry class of the high school, accompanied by Supt. W. L. MacGowan, went to Kane for the purpose of visiting the McCoy Glass Works, located at that place." . . . Cinder dust in the air is becoming quite a nuisance on the paved street areas and especially in the business district. . . . Motorists report large herds of deer in the woods in the area. . . . Looks like a big time at Beatty court tonight, and another entertaining evening for F.M. set owners who prefer to sit by the fireside rather than go to the gymnasium!

Ex - Politician Still Running; He's Messenger "Boy" At 70

By RALPH RITTER
NEA Staff Correspondent
Chicago—(NEA)—Albert Lagerstedt, a messenger "boy" at Chicago's swank Ambassador East Hotel, believes that you're never too old to have a future. Spry and pushing 70, Al holds two college degrees, has served four successive terms in the Minnesota State legislature, ran for Governor of that state in 1930, and is one political columnist who predicted Harry Truman's election.

And he's still studying. Lagerstedt attends three evening courses weekly at the Lawson YMCA, and, on a fourth night, conducts a Christian Forum, composed of 18 members who meet for discussion. For years, Al has conducted a political column for his hometown paper, the Gibson (Minn.) Gazette. Ten months before the presidential election he made his Truman prediction.

During his first campaign for election to the Minnesota State legislature, Lagerstedt toured every voting precinct in Sibley county in an ancient Model T Ford. County campaigning was no snap in those days. Motorists spent as much time cutting through corn fields and pastures as they did banging along casual excuses for highways.

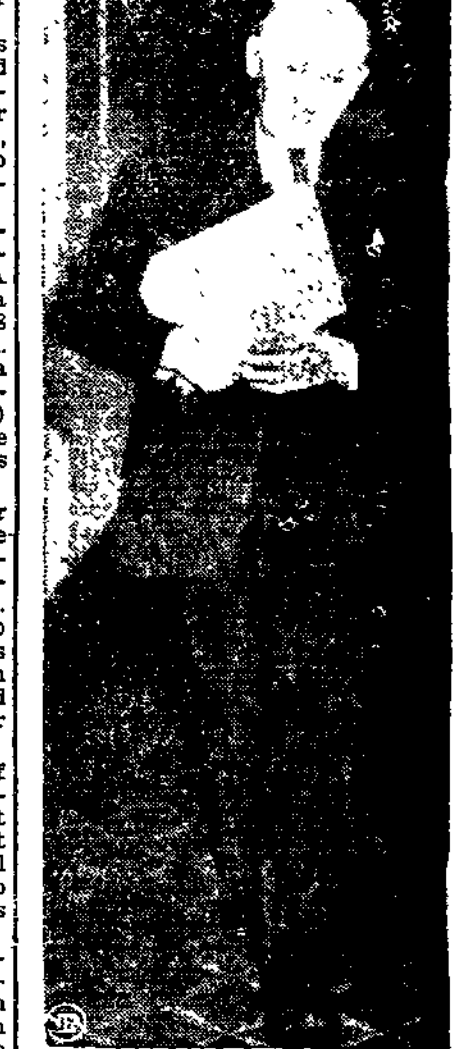

In 1930, he ran for Governor of Minnesota on a Farm-Labor ticket and though, "I didn't come out last in the race, I didn't come out first, either." Although he still had part of his legislative term to serve, he "retired" from politics following his defeat.

As with all politicians, retirement for Lagerstedt was an off-again-on-again condition. He ran for U. S. Senator from Illinois in 1938 and as alternate delegate to the Democratic Convention last year, losing out in both races.

Since coming to Chicago in 1930, Lagerstedt has held positions with various real estate firms and came to the Ambassador East Hotel two and one-half years ago. He delivers house mail, takes suits to the valet shop for pressing, and watches the flow of famous people in and out of the hotel.

Hal Boyle's Column
By HAL BOYLE
St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—A beachcomber's life on a palm-fringed isle is anything but a restful adventure.
But it is fun—if you don't mind hard work and doing without modern kitchen and bathroom conveniences.
At least that has been the experience of two young honeymooning couples here. They didn't have to go to the South Seas. They carved wilderness homes on Cabbage Key, a lonely 2,000-acre isle in the land jungle twelve miles southwest of this Florida west coast tourist metropolis.
A year ago Claude and Eva McCall came and built themselves a two-room palm-thatched cottage in a clearing near the bay. Last October another young couple, Malcolm and Barbara Simmons, moved to Cabbage Key and cleared a homestead, too.
Since then the two couples have lived happily a-la-Tarzan, working companionably together to turn the island into an Eden of comfort and plenty. They say they have found both romance and happiness.
"One reason it has worked out so well is that it was our wives who wanted to try this Robinson Crusoe life," smiled McCall, a slim tanned former radio repairman.
He has a small, leaky motorboat. He and Simmons use it to go clamming or shrimp fishing to earn what cash money they need.
"I guess it is really harder work than fixing radios," McCall said, "but somehow it doesn't seem like work."
Actually neither couple requires much money. They have no rent, their clothing upkeep is at a minimum, and there are no bars, nightclubs, or movies on the island. The only neighbor is old Uncle Silas Dent, a bewhiskered sociable hermit.
"We can live real well here and have a darn good diet for $10 a week," said Barbara. Most of that goes for motor boat fuel and for groceries, bought at a village across the bay. They could probably cut costs to $5 a week by eating more sea food, which they catch themselves.
"The island abounds in raccoons, land turtles and rattlesnakes—and all but the rattlesnakes are considered highly edible."
"Roast coon is wonderful," said Barbara, a pretty, chestnut-haired former office credit executive from Washington, D. C. "It has a taste between chicken and beef."
A self-taught artist, Mrs. Simmons spends her evenings painting by candlelight. She has completed 67 pictures and sold one for $175.
"I love it here," she said. "There are orchids growing wild in the trees. For lunch we can fix up a palm heart salad free that would cost $1.75 in New York."
The only thing she would omit from the island is the rattlesnakes. Several snake skins hang from the living room walls.
"Once Uncle Silas, our hermit, killed a snake and I picked it up and carried it a quarter of a mile home," she recalled. "When I put it down, it came slithering at me and we had to kill it all over again."
She shuddered a little. But there are things to make her and her friend Eva forget the snakes—long warm days in the sun, the night wind softly stirring the palm trees, lazy swims in the blue waters, freedom from "noisy neighbors."
There is a time limit on all things. And their romantic idyll won't go on forever. A syndicate recently purchased Cabbage Key for $200,000 and has plans to develop the little island paradise into a playground for the wealthy.
"By then we'll be ready to leave," said Mrs. Simmons. "But if I had a million dollars tomorrow, I wouldn't want anything different from this life."

(For Hal Boyle)
New York—What would you say of a girl who was crazy about opera, who dearly loved to go roller skating, and never has been to a movie in her life?
Especially a girl who has her own sponsored radio network show, who frequently has been seen on television, and lives right here in New York.
Betty Clark is a slender brunette who lives in the world of great voices and dreams of herself singing like Lily Pons at the Met.
She has gone every day for six years to the studio of Julio Rieg, a temperamental Spaniard whose principal business is to iron the butterflies out of promising voices.
Sometimes he stands behind her and sniffs his hair past her head. "You must learn to pose," he screams. "What would you do if you were singing at the Met and a bat flew in through the wings? Scream and run away?"
But Betty likes it best when she sings with the tenors from the Met, who are there to have their voices checked.
"Don't mind these big shots from the Met," Julio says. "Some day you and I will sing an opera together, and then you will sing many more operas."

called to inform Betty that she had been chosen for the program on the ABC network she was very excited.
First she telephoned Julio Rieg the good news. Her mother was very happy. Then her father came home, and he was so excited he had a heart attack. It was Christmas Eve, and a week later he was dead.
The other afternoon I sat for a while in her 55th Street apartment and listened to her story.
"I never thought much about singing—for the radio, that is—until the baritone Francesco Valentini auditioned a lot of people at the Waldorf, and Papa said I should go in it. There were many people there. But in the end he said, 'You have a phenomenal voice,' and awarded me the first prize, which was a $500 scholarship."
"After that I went on Kay Kyser's show," and was a guest on "I went along like that—though for a single minute—until this Christmas. That was when they offered me a program of my own."
Betty said her fan mail was a scream because some of the men proposed marriage and others wanted her to send them a television set.
"Some of them are the freshest things," she giggled.
Then it was time for me to hear how her voice recorded. She switched on the radio. She selected a record and dropped the needle into place.
"What I heard was a shrill baggagage screaming. 'Pester me, will you? I'll have the law on you.'"
"Oh," said Betty, "that's the radio, not me." She made the adjustment hurriedly.
When I heard her sing her heart out, and talk about opera until she was breathless, it was time to go.
She followed me to the door. She placed her small hand in mine, saying, "Who knows? I may really be at the Met, next time you hear me."
Betty Clark is twelve. She is totally blind.

New York—(AP)—Newlyweds, makers of newer or lesser known brands of household appliances, and the people who collect the interest on the items you buy on time—these are some who will benefit first and most from the relaxation in the government's curbs on credit.
And, to some degree, the man who finally finds himself at the top of the list for buying a new car. He probably has found that during the long months he has been working up from the bottom of the list, the price of the car of his dreams has risen more than he had counted upon.
If he has his heart set on a $2,100 car, he'll still have to have $700 in cash (or in traceable value of his old car) before he can drive it away. But under the new credit rules, effective Monday, as laid down by the federal reserve board, he now has 21 months instead of 18 in which to pay the remaining $1,400—plus, of course, the carrying charges, the interest and insurance and the like, which will also be three months longer and larger.
While this may make the final cost of the car to him even more than it would be under the old rules, still he may welcome the longer monthly payments and the longer period in which to get out of back.
Car dealers hope so, anyway. Many have complained that the one-third down payment, and the monthly sum, have driven away customers.
Finance companies already were expecting 1949 to be their best year since the war—now they may be sure of it. Until this year the man with the list of cars from the dealer's floor. There isn't so much of that kind of ready money around any more. And the finance boys think that at least half of you will let them help you buy the new car this year. That will be fine, for their profit and loss statements.

Most of them had record years in 1948 as it was. Even happier are some of the makers of home appliances—stoves, refrigerators, radios, washing machines and furniture. Lagging retail sales have been blamed in part on the stricter credit terms put into effect by the federal reserve board last September when installment buying was increasing by leaps and bounds, and so were prices, and inflation in general.

Blue Stockings Endorse Bills At March Meeting

The Blue Stocking Club held its semi-monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George Calderwood, with Mrs. P. S. Tarbox as assisting hostess.

The president conducted a brief business period, after which Miss Ethel Morris, legislative chairman, gave a very comprehensive outline of a number of bills coming before the present congress and legislature, recommending endorsement of several as a club. These were voted upon and readily recommended.

The program chairman, Mrs. E. E. Koebly, then announced the topic, "How Would I Advise Warren?", which was uniquely carried out in that every member, as her name was called, expressed her reasons why Warren should be widely known. All were unanimous in their praise and joy of being privileged to be a resident of our lovely town, with the many advantages we enjoy.

Ten was served from a table attractively centered with spring flowers, Mrs. Warren Carlin and Mrs. R. E. Sires pouring.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Brackett Ayers, Miss Kate Winger assisting.

Russo And Aunkst Wedding March 1 At Saint Joseph's

At nine o'clock Tuesday morning, March 1st, in St. Joseph's church, Miss Emma Marie Aunkst, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Aunkst, formerly of Johnsonburg, became the bride of Anthony James Russo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Russo, 226 Main avenue.

The nuptial mass was followed by the double ring ceremony, with Kathleen Edinger at the organ and Josephine Rich as soloist for traditional wedding selections. Father Alfred Bauer, pastor, officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, William Aunkst, and attended by the bridegroom's sister, Adeline Russo, as maid of honor. Louis Vazza was best man for Mr. Russo.

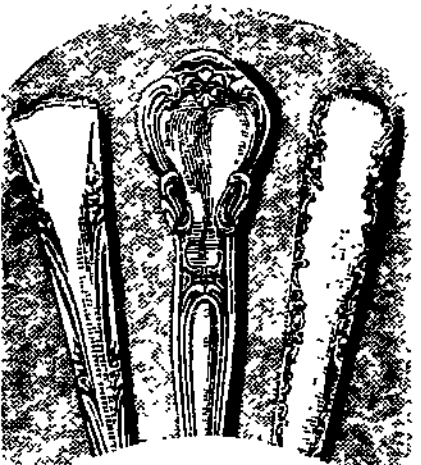

The bride chose a gray suit, with accessories of aqua and gray, wore a corsage of white roses and carried a white prayer book. Miss Russo wore a pink rose corsage with a powder blue suit.

Mrs. Russo wore wine and gray, with a corsage of yellow roses.

A three-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table at the Carver Hotel, where the wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party and the immediate families.

The couple left later for a short wedding trip and will make their home at 109 Sixth avenue. The bride chose a gray and blue ensemble for traveling.

The bride-elect was honored with a pre-nuptial shower party given by Mrs. Carl Russo.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

A COLLEGE dean of home economics says having married students on the campus has been an eye opener to faculty members who have to do a certain amount of counseling of students as part of their jobs.

"It's given us a chance to observe our young married students facing the problems young couples never used to have to solve until they were out of school and out of our reach."

That, of course, should benefit today's college students in two ways.

If the counselors are good at their job the young couples struggling to get an education and start homes at the same time have the advantage of having help available when their problems look too big to them.

And, also, the teachers can now get a good idea of what problems their unmarried students may face when they get out of school and take on marriage.

ALL TO THE GOOD

SO if life on the college campus is no longer completely set off from life in the outside world, that is all to the good—both for the faculty and for the students.

College life may not be as gay and carefree as it was in the good old prewar days. But, at least, there shouldn't be as many graduates who, a few years after getting out of school, start to moan. "If I had only made the best use of my college years instead of ritting them away."

Members of PAK will again conduct their Lenten Emphasis program in the period between now and Easter and all members have been mailed their reminder letter, plus their "We Attended" record form. The announcement reads:

"Coming—A 'Go to Church' campaign such as this country has never seen. It will be on the air, in the papers, on the news, on billboards—every place you turn. But, as PAK members, let's be out in front. Start next Sunday—the first Sunday in Lent—and attend your church regularly—at least during the Lenten season."

Members are asked to turn in their attendance records after Lent, so that they may be eligible for a special recognition which will be announced later.

Housing Plan Introduced In Legislature

state to grant up to $15,000,000 to private builders or local housing groups to construct low-rent housing. The grants are designed to pay up to 35 per cent of the cost.

Here's how the plan would work in actual operation:

The Planning Board would survey the need for low-rent housing in a community on the basis of population growth and geographical trends of industry.

Then it would consult with local officials on whether they desire state aid.

Once the need is determined, the board would advertise for bids for actual construction.

Each bid would be accompanied by a plan on the number and character of the proposed housing units, type of construction, the site and rental range proposed. In addition, the builder would specify how much state aid he needed.

Country's All-Import-ant Red Cross Drive Opens Monday

cannot be successfully conducted only on gifts of $5 and $10. Rather it will take pledges of this amount in three or four installments, over the course of the year, to allow Warren county to reach its quota. Officers of the local chapter realize that there are many who can do better than this; some who can do less. But each recipient of an appeal is asked to ask himself or herself: "Just how much do I want to give and how much can I honestly give?"

The answer to this all-important question, Red Cross officials feel, will be a generous contribution by people from all sections of the county and the results will make the goal possible.

Upon receipt of each contribution, whether it be cash or check or pledge, at Red Cross Headquarters it will be tabulated and the person making the donation will receive, by return mail, his or her receipt and a Red Cross label pin indicating that that individual has made his or her gift to the Red Cross Drive. These pins should be worn by each recipient throughout the month of March.

Red Cross headquarters also wishes to point out to everyone that the list to which letters will be mailed over the coming week-end was prepared from the names of those who contributed to the Red Cross drive one year ago. Consequently there will be some names omitted; names of persons who could not or did not give last year, or names of persons who have moved to Warren within the past year. Such persons who wish to make a donation to the Red Cross this year and receive their Red Cross pin, indicating a gift has been made, are asked to send their check or donation to Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross at 404 Market Street, Warren, Pa. Immediately upon receipt of such gifts acknowledgment will be made and a Red Cross pin sent each contributor as an indication that they, too, have given to the Red Cross this year.

The president named no specific points, but he did say he planned to let Congress know his ideas on the matter in a few days.

In New York, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, former Army chief of staff, called the present Armed Forces' unification law "wishy washy." Eisenhower gave strong support to moves toward greater authority for the secretary of defense.

World Needs the Ministry of Jesus

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

"THE Son of Man," said Jesus, referring to Himself, "came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many" (Matthew 20:28).

What does it mean to minister? The dictionary says that it means to supply as something needed. The great outstanding fact concerning humanity is human need. Young and old, rich and poor, sick and well, of every time, race, and color, the one common denominator of the human family is need.

There are needs that the greatest wealth cannot supply, and needs that the most robust health leave those thus fortunate still in want. Man needs food, warmth and rest. He needs health and peace of mind.

Besides innumerable other needs of which he is aware, he needs a great deal of which he is not conscious. It is a part of man's progress to become aware of new and expanding needs.

JESUS came to supply man's need, or to teach men the way to God's supply. He fed men's bodies, but He brought to them the bread of life. He healed men's diseases, but He was the physician to sin-sick souls. He offered men rest. He ministered to man's need of faith, hope and vision.

There was no need of man to which Jesus did not minister. And we ought to write that in the present tense, for there is no need of man to which Jesus does not minister today. Even the basic physical needs of man for food, health, housing and welfare can be met in our modern complex world only as men learn to be mutually helpful, and minister to one another, in the spirit of Jesus. It is ministry that the world most needs.

But the supreme ministry of Jesus was the ministry of salvation, the ministry in which He did indeed give His life a ransom for many.

As a boy I was impressed by a picture in a boys' paper that came to our house. It was a shipwreck at sea, a vessel returning from the California gold fields, with miners laden down with their treasure, but casting their bags of gold across the deck with the cry, "Take it, who will; we are all going down." The man who has spent his life getting and grabbing, and even being very successful at it, is like those miners, little as he realizes it.

"My God shall supply all your need," says the Apostle. And first in man's need is "the kingdom of God, and His righteousness."

This Cat's No Sourpuss

"Tiger" belies his name and proves he's a right civilized cat by giving a warm, friendly welcome to "Whitey," the white rat. Mrs. Stella Kasprovicz, of Newark, N. J., owns Tiger. A child recently left the rat on a nearby doorstep with a note, asking the finder to care for it. The rat was turned over to the police, but Mrs. Kasprovicz volunteered to take it into her home, and, strangely enough, Tiger offered no objection.

Moose on Loose Finds City Pretty

A strange sight, even in the Alaskan city of Anchorage, is a moose wandering around on city streets. This venturesome animal caused much commotion in Anchorage, and townspeople tried to get him out of town with snowballs and lighted flares. But he liked it and wouldn't budge. Later, police shot him, claiming he lunged at children. (Photo by NEA-Acme photographer Dick Chase.)

Smoke from stench bombs tossed by University of South Carolina students fills the air around hooded Klansmen in Columbia, S. C., after the KKK staged an outdoor demonstration to harp white supremacy. Throwing a bomb, one student yelled, "Something smells here."

Needy Italians See Little of E. R. P.

Despite the huge sums the European Recovery Program has poured into Italy, scenes like this are still common in Rome. Here the children of a jobless Italian share the family's only bed with files and vermin. Most of the E. R. P. money goes to increase Italian industrial production. ## It Comes Here to Speak for Joe

In a month or so, suppose you want to call Joe Doakes on the phone. You hear a click, then a voice says, "Joe isn't home. This is his mechanical telephone-answerer speaking. I'll take any messages." The new gadget, shown in New York by George F. Ryan, president of the demonstration firm, will automatically answer the phone and record up to 60 minutes of messages on an erasable wire tape. It will cost about $200.

The tiny state went Red in 1945, becoming the only Communist government outside the Iron Curtain. At the recent election, 2815 voted for the Communist-Socialist bloc, and 2010 favored the anti-Communist parties. San Marino claims to be the oldest state in the world.

Some other items, notably metals like zinc, copper and lead, are still at their highest mark. Data are from the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Mortgage Is Conquered By Gas Company

Definite proof that The Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. has made tremendous strides in conquering the "gas shortage" problem was seen yesterday when the company and its associated companies announced approval had been given to more than 6,500 applications for permits to install gas-fired units in residences scattered throughout Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland.

The approvals granted within the last week have cleaned up nearly all pending applications received to March 1.

The gas company is continuing to receive applications for gas use heating. Approval on these applications received after March 1 must await a continued improvement in gas supply, it was announced.

"Generally mild winter weather," a gas company spokesman pointed out, "is largely responsible for being able to grant these thousands of requests. Then too, we have been able to complete many construction projects which were undertaken so we could maintain better gas pressures in winter weather."

Cary Grant — Franchot Tone — Diana Lynn in "EVERY GIRL SHOULD BE MARRIED"
at the Library Theatre Sunday-Monday-Tuesday

A sparkling comedy calculated to keep patrons still chuckling in appreciation long after they've left the theatre is Don Hartman's production, "Every Girl Should Be Married," for RKO Radio, which opens Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Library Theatre.

Starring Cary Grant, Franchot Tone and Diana Lynn and introducing a brilliant newcomer in the person of Betsy Drake, the Dore Schary presentation is based on the gay assumption that a modern maiden has a perfect right to pick the bachelor she wants and go after him without incurring any social censure.

As a theory this may be fine, but in the picture it develops unexpected flaws, due largely to the impetuous disposition of the heroine and to the wariness of the object of her affections, a successful doctor not unversed in women's wiles. The result is as funny an offering as has come out of Hollywood in a long, long time.

Grant is at his best as the doctor, and the new "find," Miss Drake, seems headed for stardom in her debut performance as the go-getting damsel. Tone saucily portrays her employer whom Miss Drake uses as bait to arouse Grant's jealousy, and Miss Lynn delivers deftly as the heroine's fascinated companion. Alan Mowbray plays a featured role.

Hartman's triple-threat talents as producer, director and (in collaboration with the late Stephen Morehouse Avery) co-scenarist, are largely responsible for the gaiety and hilarious pace of the Dore Schary presentation. If you're searching for entertainment, you can't go wrong on this picture.

An average of 208 inches of snow falls annually on Mount Washington, N. H., highest peak in New England, with a height of 6,288 feet.

Court Battle Over Charles Fight Looms

New York, March 4.—(AP)—Ezzard Charles, heavyweight contender from Cincinnati, became the central figure today in the giant tug-of-war for control of bigtime boxing.

The two warring promotional groups—the Twentieth Century Sporting Club and Joe Louis' newly-formed International Boxing Club—both contend they have Charles under contract.

Sol Strauss, Twentieth Century lawyer and director, said he had a contract, yet tucked away giving Twentieth Century a Charles' services through November.

It was signed by the fighter and George Rhein, one of Charles' co-managers, Strauss added. Furthermore, he said, the papers carried a note "approved by Jake Mintz," another co-manager.

This statement brought a round of denials and gave rise to speculation that the first round of the promotional war may be settled in the courts.

Mintz insisted Charles had signed no such contract for Twentieth Century.

Dragons Have Old Score To Settle With Raiders Tonite

The Warren Dragon basketballers have an old score to settle with Brookville when the Red Raiders come here tonight for a post-season game in Beatty gym.

Back in 1940, it was Brookville that edged Warren out of the District championship by a 19-18 score. The teams haven't faced each other since that time.

Tonight's battle, slated for 8:15 o'clock, is rated a toss-up. The Dragons, paced by the veteran guards, Ted Shattuck and Carl Nelson, have chalked up 20 wins in 26 games.

The Brookville squad, which has five better-than-average players with no particular outstanding stars like Shattuck and Nelson, has won 19 times out of 22 games.

A play by play account of tonight's clash will be broadcast over WNAE-FM. An intra-squad match is slated as the preliminary at 7 o'clock.

The Brookville-Warren clash is sponsored by the Warren Sports Boosters Association as a benefit for the War Memorial Athletic Field fund.

Sports Boosters officers said today that about 600 tickets have been sold in advance this week, and that a few tickets will be available at the gate. They emphasize that all persons who have purchased a ticket will be guaranteed admission to the gym.
